Description

The gross income is the income which is later taxed and includes:

- Personal taxable incomes (salary, pensions from pension funds, public benefits, fees etc.
- Income as self-employed (profit from own firm including taxable fees etc., capital income etc.)
- Income from abroad (salary, pensions, capital income and business income etc.)

The gross income does not include

- ATP contributions and pension contributions administered by the employer
- Incomes that are not taxable
- Housing benefit
- Child benefit
- Social security (1980-1993)
- Nontaxable subsidies
- Nontaxable social security
- Heating subsidies for pensioners
- Pensions which has been drawn
- Lottery winnings

If there is a need for a variable which includes all incomes (taxable and nontaxable), except for pensions which has been drawn and lottery winnings, it is recommendable to use the variable PERINDKIALT (total income) instead.
